

Alternative Organizations for In-Kind Donations

(updated as of 4/26/17)

Below is a list of other non-profits in the D.C. area serving low-income and underserved members of our community. While we have provided some information of each organization below, the best way to learn more is to click on an organization's link to their website. This will take you to the in-kind donations section of their website where you can view their in-kind needs and more.
